FOUR ESSENTIALS FOR HAPPINESS:

FAITH IN GOD

LOVE TOWARDS OTHERS, EVEN THOSE WHO MAY BE YOUR ENEMY

HONESTY WITH YOURSELF, EVEN IF IT HURTS

OBEDIENCE TOWARD GOD

When you are trying to make decisions in your Life, the important thing is to not make spiritual compromises. If someone, or a group of people are asking you to compromise your spiritual path or belief system, see that as a major red flag.

You may want to know some answers if they have your best intentions in mind. People like that may have a hidden agenda, or have evil intent.

We all have our own unique, special belief systems when it comes to God. To have someone want us to change those systems, modify them, give them up, or otherwise believe something else is only an act of free will on our parts. If you want to make changes, by all means, make them. But if you feel pressured, coerced, or otherwise given ultimatums, then the best path is to wait. Don't make any decisions about your spiritual path without your full knowledge, awareness and consent.
